A WORD OF THANKS TO OUR SUPPORTERS

We are so grateful for all our partner schools, students, principals, teachers, and community members who are on the ground each day making our programs a reality. It is their dedication to curiosity and hands-on learning that makes it possible for us to cook in the classroom with our students. We would not be able to do this work without the generous support of our donors, sponsors and grantors, as well as our network of community partners and volunteers who believe in the value of experiential learning. Special thanks to Don Wambles, Andrea Carter, and the Alabama Department of Agriculture for supporting the creation of this manual and making it possible for us to test and re-test our lesson plans and Mobile Cooking Units at our eleven partner schools during hundreds of cooking lessons with thousands of students. Extra special thanks to Becca Gardner, Tom Rathe, and Natalie Wulf who helped to develop and test the cooking lessons in all of their garden classes. And again, to Natalie Wulf, who devoted countless hours to the development of this manual. Schoolyard Roots is lucky to have a smart, creative, talented teaching team and dedicated, hard-working, enthusiastic supporters.
